FINDINGS OF FACT:

1. Pennsylvania General Insurance Company ("Pennsylvania General") is authorized to write property and casualty insurance in Washington state.
2. On June 22, 2001, the Office of the Insurance Commissioner ("OIC") received a commercial auto rate filing from the OneBeacon Insurance Group, which includes Pennsylvania General. This filing requested a 5% increase. OIC actuarial analyst Eric Slavich disapproved this filing in a September 5, 2001 letter. In that letter, Mr. Slavich set a disapproval date (the date on which the disapproval would become effective) of December 4, 2001. When he had received no response by that disapproval date, he closed out this filing on March 15, 2002.
3. On July 11, 2002, the OIC received a second commercial auto filing from the OneBeacon Insurance Group, including Pennsylvania General. This time Mr. Slavich approved it, because the Group had done a better job of substantiating the requested rate increase. The effective approval date was retroactive 30 days, to June 11, 2002. However, 363 policies were issued at the new rates between December 4, 2001 (the effective disapproval date) and June 11, 2002 (the effective approval date)

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

1. The issuance of 363 policies at the new rates between December 4, 2001 and June 11, 2002 comprised 363 violations of RCW 48.19.040(6).
2. In addition, there were also 246 OneBeacon Group policies in effect on December 4, 2001, at the new rates. When the Group companies (including Pennsylvania General) did not change those rates mid-term, this comprised 246 violations of RCW 48.19.043(4). That statute provides that "Upon final determination of a disapproval of a rate...the insurer shall issue an endorsement changing the rate to comply with the commissioner's disapproval from the date the rate is no longer effective".

CONSENT TO ORDER:

It will also result in a civil lawsuit being brought by the Washington state Attorney General on behalf of the Insurance Commissioner.
